

EDUCATIONAL IMPACT

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra is dedicated to making music education accessible to all students and teachers in St. Louis and around the world. A leader in music education since 1921, the SLSO offers a broad portfolio of free, educator-informed programs and resources designed to empower music educators and inspire student engagement in music.

200+ in-person and virtual events for students, teachers, and families

6,900+ free tickets to education concerts provided to schools demonstrating financial need

100+ Youth Orchestra musicians mentored by SLSO musicians

12 student musicians coached through Peer to Peer

700+ students interacted with SLSO musicians in their classrooms

260+ teachers participated in professional development workshops, impacting 34,000+ students

237,000+ PreK–12 students and 825+ teachers reached in-person and online

750+ schools participated in education activities

Students and teachers in 46 states and 7 countries connected with SLSO education programs

“[My students] loved the music and dance! They talked about playing instruments when they are old enough in our school orchestra program.”

— Teacher from Ritenour Schools

New this Season

Holocaust Composer Stories:

a digital program for middle and high school classrooms that brings to light the stories and works of composers directly affected by the Holocaust.

Embracing Neurodiversity:

a professional development workshop that gives elementary music teachers tools to support sensory processing differences in the classroom and the concert hall.

SLSO Education Programs are presented by

And sponsored by The Hearst Foundations and Dana Brown Charitable Trust, U.S. Bank, Trustee

ST. LOUIS
SYMPHONY
ORCHESTRA

STÉPHANE DENÈVE, MUSIC DIRECTOR

slso.org/education

24
/ 25
145th Season